WANT DOLLAR TO BUY MORE

Grange Leaders Urge Tariff to Equalize Competition With Europe.BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920)

Washington—Six practical farmers, members of the executive committee of the National Grange, sat down to luncheon here and, reverting for the moment to the decline in the prices of farm products in terms of the dollar meal.

S. J. Lowell, president of the National Grange, said it cost him four bushels of apples to get the dollar to pay for his luncheon. During the war it would have cost him only a peck of apples. W. H. Thompson of the Maine Grange in effect had to pay a bushel and a half of potatoes instead of a peck which was the equivalent of a dollar a year ago. Leslie R. Smith of Massachusetts had to offer two bushels of onions as contrasted with the war equivalent of a peck of onions. Charles W. Holman of Texas could have gotten his luncheon for two pounds of cotton in war times but now he had to contribute eleven pounds of cotton for the dollar. Professor T. C. Atkinson of West Virginia insisted that there had been little change on wheat for while his meal cost him a half a bushel of wheat, he would have paid slightly less than that a year ago. A. M. Loomis, secretary of the National Grange, had to pay four pounds of cheese whereas heretofore the same dollar meal would have been purchased for two and a half pounds of cheese.

The situation brought about by the decline in the prices of farm products brought the officers of the Grange to Washington for a general talk on agricultural policies, particularly as it will affect the Harding administration. Several of the officers are leaving for Marion this week to discuss agriculture with Mr. Harding. They have read the reports that Henry C. Wallace of Iowa has been selected for secretary of agriculture but would offer no comment. It is said that they have men of their own to propose to Mr. Harding who have had more experience as practical farmers than Mr. Wallace but one of the group indicated that while Mr. Wallace may not have been a farmer as long as they thought, nevertheless, he had been on the farm more years than the appointees of the past. Here is the kind of a secretary of agriculture the National Grange wants:

"A practical farmer who should not only be in sympathy with farmers but to identified by ideas, vocations and effort that farmers will recognize him as one of themselves; the head of the department must be a man around whom agricultural interests and workers will rally with confidence in his leadership."

Consider Tariff
There's another thing the Grange wants from President Harding's secretary of agriculture—the cost of accounting system that will tell the people of the city convincingly about the costs of the farm. Other things affecting agriculture to be discussed at Marion include a permanent tariff. Some of the members of the Grange look askance at the "emergency" character of the present tariff proposals. Some of the duties are regarded as too high and as likely to invite retaliatory tariff wars while other schedules are considered far too low.

"What the farmers ought to have," said S. J. Lowell, president of the Grange, "is a protective tariff that will represent the difference in the cost of production here and abroad and nothing more. I believe the job can be done equitably."

Mr. Lowell said agricultural conditions throughout the country were discouraging largely because the cost of labor had not come down. He said he looked for a drop in labor cost next spring. He declared that while plenty of labor was in idleness the cost would not come down until some of the savings of the prosperous period through which the nation had passed were exhausted. But that the cost of labor on the farm would come down he had no doubt whatsoever.

"Labor will come down," he declared emphatically "because it must come down. Otherwise the farmer cannot afford to produce the big crops needed to feed our immense population."

Opinions vary among members of the Grange as to the length of the period necessary for a complete economic readjustment but there is a feeling of hope that the next administration will be a vital factor in helping the farmer who feels that he is beginning to get more for his dollar since he is beginning to give the consumer much more foodstuffs for the same dollar.

Harding Picks Men To Serve In His CabinetHEAVY CASUALTIES
IN RACE RIOTING

Columbus, Ga.—Eight negroes were surrounded in a house near Kurtsboro, Ala., by a posse following a battle between whites and blacks last night in which several persons were said to have been wounded, some fatally, according to reports received here early today.

Details of the fight were not given in the first reports. Reinforcements have been rushed to Kurtsboro and a supply of guns and ammunition is being sent from here. Unconfirmed reports stated five whites were shot, some perhaps fatally wounded. Several negroes were also reported shot.

Wires between Columbus and Kurtsboro and Hannan are down and efforts to secure detailed information as to the fighting and casualties were unavailable.

President-Elect Has Virtually Completed His Selections—
Political Expediency Plays Big Part in Picking the Men.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
(Copyright 1920 by the United Press)
Marion, Ohio—The first cabinet slate has been virtually completed by President-elect Harding, it was learned here today.

This tentative slate is understood to stand as follows:

Secretary of state, Charles E. Hughes, New York.

Secretary of treasury, Charles G. Dawes, Illinois.

Secretary of war, A. T. Hottel, Kentucky.

Secretary of navy, John W. Weeks, Massachusetts.

Attorney general, Harry M. Daugherty, Ohio.

Postmaster general, Will H. Hays, Indiana.

Secretary of interior, George Sutherland, Utah.

Secretary of agriculture, Henry C. Wallace, Iowa.

Secretary of commerce, Charles Warren, Michigan.

Secretary of labor, Herbert Hoover, California.

George B. Christian, Jr., of Marion, is understood to have been decided upon as secretary to the president.

Harding, of course, is reserving the right to change his mind if he deems it wise and it is possible he will be obliged to shift his men to other posts than those now in mind for them.

Many in Reserve

New names may have to be substituted for those now on the list. Among these in reserve are:

Charles D. Hilles, New York, and George M. Reynolds, Chicago, for treasurer; Congressman Julius Kahn, California, for war; former Congressman J. I. Esch, Wisconsin, and J. Hampton Moore, Pennsylvania, for commerce; Governor Campbell, Arizona, for interior; Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana, for labor.

Most of the first line men under consideration are largely open for criticism from one quarter or another and the influences in some instances may cause Harding to change his mind by inauguration day.

Announcement of the completed cabinet is not expected much before today.

IRISH POLICE PATROL
ATTACKED FROM AMBUSH

Dublin.—The end of the period for surrender of arms to crown forces under martial law was marked last night by an attack on a police patrol at Middleton, near Cork, it was announced today.

One constable was killed, three seriously wounded and three more slightly injured.

Casualties of the attacking force were not learned.

A relief force enroute to aid the ambushed patrol was attacked also and a sergeant was seriously wounded.

NEW YORK CENTRAL WANTS
BETTER CHICAGO LINES

Washington, D. C.—The New York Central Railroad company today asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to "lease, operate and ultimately purchase" the Chicago Junction Railway terminal properties to give the New York Central an inner belt line connection at Chicago.

The belt line properties are valued at about $33,000,000.

JAPS SURPRISED
BY PROPOSAL TO EXTEND LAND LAW

Jap Ambassador Declares His Country Is Not Worrying
About California.

By A. L. Bradford
By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—An account of the negotiations which preceded and led up to the reported action of Japanese in withdrawing opposition to the California land law was made available to the United Press today from a highly authoritative source.

It was stated by persons in touch with the negotiations between Ambassador Shidehara and Roland Morris, American ambassador to Japan, that Shidehara had informally withdrawn objections to the California measure after the proposal to widen the law to include all aliens, had been put up to him.

The story as given to the United Press follows:

A short time ago, certain members of congress called on Morris, who in conducting the negotiations with Japan for the state department, and outlined plans to make the California law apply to all aliens.

They suggested that such an extension of the law would be very advisable, that it would eliminate the discriminatory phase of the law as it applied to Japanese subjects and might prompt Japan to withdraw her protest. Such a law would make it unnecessary for the United States to make concessions to placate the sensibilities of Japan, whose claim was that the law was discriminatory to her subjects.

Ambassador Morris, it is understood, approved of the plan on foot to extend the land law if this was the desire of California.

Later Morris told Shidehara of the plans. It is understood that the mikado's ambassador was greatly surprised and that he asked for 24 hours to think the matter over.

At the next conference between the two ambassadors, after the elapse of the twenty-four hours, Morris brought up the question. Shidehara, it is understood, replied rather nervously that Japan was not worrying anymore about the California law and according to the most responsible information stated definitely in effect that Japan withdrew her protest.

SEVEN DIE IN FIRE

Fairfield, Conn.—An entire family of seven was wiped out by a fire here today. The victims were Felix Yackimovich, 54, his three sons and three daughters. The children were, Henry, 3; George, 4; John, 6; Alice, 9; Anna, 15, and Nora 16 months.

POET RAVES AS HE PREPARES TO GIVE UP FIUMED'Annunzio Leaves Rebel City
by Plane, as Italians Take Possession.

400 ITALIANS ARE KILLED

Fire Eating Rebel Threatens to Be Avenged for Attempt on His Life.

By Camillo Cianfrani

Rome—While Gabriele D'Annunzio, spluttering his wrath, prepared to leave Fiume by airplane today, formal surrender of the city to government forces was expected within a few hours.

Four hundred Italian soldiers were killed in the fighting at Fiume, it was reported here today.

The defending forces were said to have lost eighty killed, including two women fighters. Two hundred legionnaires were wounded.

General Caviglia, commander of the regular troops which had squeezed the Fiume legionnaires back from their outposts, prepared to accept the city's surrender from Mayor Gigante and whatever military leaders may be left in the city. The poet found in his last proclamation—the list of a long series of proclamations—the list of a long series of proclamations.

"I am not worth while to offer my life to a people absorbed in Christmas celebrations while the government coldly orders the murder of this population which for 16 months has fought and died."

"While yesterday I had planned and prepared to sacrifice myself, today I am gutting ready to defend myself, with all weapons."

"It is not worth while to offer my life to a people absorbed in Christmas celebrations while the government coldly orders the murder of this population which for 16 months has fought and died."

Agreement to surrender the city came quickly after Mayor Gigante and Rector Venturi arranged a truce. After presenting proposals which met the original terms of the government, they were sent back to the city by General Ferrai to obtain D'Annunzio's signature to the document and to insert a clause agreement to recognize the Rapallo treaty under which the Adriatic borders were demarcated.

From appearances most of the residents opposed further opposition to the government even the rector's arguing for submission because of the suffering of the population.

Government commanders, in messages to Rome today, expressed their pleasure at the perfect discipline of their troops. Despite the harassing guer warfare of the legionnaires, the regulars withheld replies except when ordered by officers to shoot. Officers accompanied their men as they walked into machine gun fire or entered Fiume streets to be greeted by hand grenades.

215,000 MEN ARE
IDLE IN DETROIT

By United Press Leased Wire

Detroit, Mich.—The unemployment situation in Detroit has just about reached the peak of its upward trend—it can't go much farther.

The automobile is Detroit's principal output. The huge factories manufacturing these give employment in normal times to about 200,000 men. These factories are practically all idle today. That is why the unemployment situation stands near its peak.

George W. Grant, secretary of the Detroit Employers' association, furnished the United Press with figures showing that conservatively there have been 215,000 laid off from work in Detroit since last April, of which number about 150,000 are remaining in the city.

The hardest single joint to the automobile unemployment situation came yesterday in the unofficial announcement that the Ford Motor company had closed "indefinitely."

About 50,000 are employed at the Ford plant.

NO MORE RUM ARRESTS
UNTIL AFTER NEW YEAR'S

By United Press Leased Wire

Milwaukee—After rounding up fourteen alleged liquor law violators indicted by the federal grand jury here yesterday, it was announced today no more arrests would be made until after New Year's.

More than fifty indictments are yet to be served.

Among those arraigned yesterday and released for trial in January, was "Bob" Kroecker, widely known bar-keeper, indicted on seventy counts, charging unlawful sale of whisky over the bar and with purchase of thirty cases of whisky, Joseph Budar, already under $50,000 bail, charged with attempted bribe of prohibition officers, was re-arrested.

Romance.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Here's the latest movie release:

"The wedding of the Stars," featuring both Miss Constance Talmadge and Dorothy Gish.

An added attraction is Santa Claus himself in the role of Dan Cupid. Albert S. Mend, justice of the peace of Greenwich, Conn., played the parson. Minor parts are played by John Pialoglou, a business man and James Rennie, an actor in "legitimate."

The story was filmed in Greenwich last Sunday but was not thrown on the screen of publicity until today.

It wasn't an elopement. Constance and Dorothy, who have been chums for years, just decided to get married together. At a dinner in the Hotel St. Regis, Christmas night, attended by the four young people and some relatives, Dorothy simply announced: "Tummy and I are going to be married tomorrow and so are Constance and John."

Both girls are 31. Pialoglou, who is a New York representative for his father, a tobacco planter in Greece, is 28. Rennie is 30 and plays one of the leading roles in "Spanish Love."

HURLEY GIVES BIG WELCOME TO ITS RUM SELLERS

Hilarious Time in Toughest
Town When Saloonmen
Return From Jail.

By United Press Leased Wire

Hurley, Wis.—Hurley was quieting down today after the most exciting time of its history.

All but five of the saloonkeepers and bartenders, charged with vending the forbidden beverage, went back home having left over $70,000 bail money with United States commissioner Walter Cate, in Ashland.

The hilarity of the preceding evening of the homecoming last night gave evidence that federal agents did not seize all the liquor the town possesses. It was hard for an outsider to get it, but there was no question but what those who knew the ropes were supplied.

Meantime the young army of prohibition agents, gathered from all parts of the northwest to stage the sensational raid Tuesday, was dispersing. Some were left on the iron range to watch developments.

Thirty seven saloonkeepers and sixteen bartenders were bound over to the grand jury which will be called either at La Crosse or Superior to return indictments. The men were all represented by Mayor O'Neill, of Ironwood, just across the river. O'Neill anxiously emphasized that his officers had nothing to do with his law practice and that he was protecting the liquor law violators as an attorney and not as a city official.

Bail was expected to be furnished today for the five bartenders left in jail at Ashland last night. They had not obtained bail, however, at a late hour.

Andrew Gortas, one of the saloonkeepers, who disappeared Tuesday night when the Hurleyites were herded into pullman cars and taken to Ashland, appeared at the Ashland jail yesterday and gave himself up. He said he got lost in the crowd at Ashland and went to the hotel instead of the jail.

FOWLER AGAIN HEADS
BADGER CIRCUIT JUDGES

By United Press Leased Wire

Minneapolis—Judge Chester Fowler, of Fond du Lac, will again head the Circuit Judges' association.

He was re-elected president at the final meeting of the association here yesterday.

Other officers re-elected follow:

Judge A. H. Reid, Wausau, vice-president; R. L. Morse, Fond du Lac, secretary; and Judges E. R. Stevens, Madison; A. J. Wickham, Eau Claire and A. H. Reid, Wausau, members of the executive committee.

A special meeting of the association will be held in June at Eau Claire in connection with the state bar meeting and the annual meeting next December in Milwaukee.

Judge Jay F. Lyons, Walworth county, was elected president of the County Judges' association and Fred Berginger, Winnebago county, secretary-treasurer.

The county judges' convention will be held in Eau Claire in June.

PULLMAN WORKERS OFFER TO ACCEPT CUT IN WAGES

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—Officers of the Pullman company today were expected to take action on the voluntary proposal of 9,000 employees of the car shops that a 20 per cent reduction in wages be made.

The step was taken by employees after discussion of the readjustment in industry and declining commodity prices. If the company avails itself of the offer, it will save over three million dollars a year, officials stated.

JAPAN READY

NAVAL LIMITJapanese Ambassador Declares
World Businessmen Could Limit Armament.

DENIES UNUSUAL PROGRAM

Japan Considers Herself as Sentinel Against Spread of Bolshevism.

BY RUSSELL BROWNING

(Copyright 1920 by the United Press)
London—Japan is ready to enter an international conference of limitation of naval armaments, in the belief of Baron Hayashi, the new Japanese ambassador to Great Britain.

In an interview given the United Press today, Baron Hayashi declared the businessmen of the big navy nations—the men who pay the bills—could reach an agreement on limiting naval building if their countries would arrange such a conference.

Japan, the ambassador declared, is not exceeding her announced naval program. Her preparations must be considered necessary, he said, because she is a sentinel against spread of bolshevism. He charged a highly organized attempt to bolshevize Japan had been made and that his country must remain on guard.

Naval Race is Foolish
"This talk in the United States about a big navy is very annoying to Japan," the baron said.

"It is foolish and it is tragic to think of the big states of Great Britain, the United States and Japan competing in a race for armament. Japan cannot afford it."

"I believe an agreement could be reached quickly if the big men of each country assembled at a round table, not as pacifists or militarists nor politicians, but as businessmen cut of whose pockets must come a large slice of money for the upkeep of navies."

"I think Japan is willing to enter such a conference."

"With considerable interest, I have read the exchange of pleasantries between Secretary Daniels and Lord Northcliffe. They were very interesting but they got us nowhere."

Hayashi declared Japan is not constructing an unusual number of fighting ships but said the country is carrying out a construction program evolved after long public discussion. He denied emphatically that Japan is considering additions to that program.

Reds Active in Japan
The world has heard little of attempts to bolshevize Japan, he said. But Red gold has been poured into the country in an effort to spread the gospel of discontent. These efforts have met sufficient success to cause the government some concern, he said.

Japan should be considered a sentinel, he said, guarding the western world from a spread of sovietism. He declared Japan is under a responsible government which sincerely desires to play the role of a good partner in the firm of nations.

"But let the nations consider," he said, "what it would mean should any of the big powers succumb to sovietism."

In considering the armament problem, he said, the nations should ponder over the fact that armament races sometimes breed war and that war can give rise to bolshevism as in the case of Russia.

ACCUSED BROKER
REFUSES TO TALK

By United Press Leased Wire

Minneapolis—Deputies from Portland, Oregon, were expected here this afternoon to arrange for the return of John L. Etheridge to Portland on a charge of larceny as bail.

Etheridge is accused in connection with the failure of Morris Brothers, bond brokers of Portland, Seattle and Tacoma. A shortage of more than $100,000 is reported to have been disclosed.

Etheridge has steadfastly declined to make any statement. His wife has asserted vehemently that he "hasn't a cent that does not belong to him."

Etheridge has not indicated whether he would fight extradition, but he is reported to have told detectives who arrested him that he would "return to Portland alone" if given the chance.

His wife, staying at the Radisson, has blamed enemies and business competitors for their husband's arrest, declaring it is all due to the reputation of the stories of his incarceration in New Jersey several years ago.

When a Portland newspaper published this story, she said, credit was withdrawn from Morris Brothers, causing their failure. Her husband had nothing to do with it, she said, he having resigned as president of the concern.

PILGRIM STAMPS ARE ON SALE HERE NOW

Special postage stamps commemorative of the 100th anniversary of the landing of the pilgrims have been received at the postoffice and are on sale. They will not displace the regular stamps, but will be sold to those who request them. There is a large enough supply to accommodate everybody.

The stamps are in one, two and five cent denominations and are a trifle larger than the ordinary stamps. The one cent is green, and contains a picture of the Mayflower. The two-cent is red and shows the landing of the pilgrims. The five cent is blue and depicts the signing of the compact. The dates 1620 and 1920 are inscribed in the corners.

STATE OFFICES TO BE MOVED TO NEW BUILDING

Madison, Wis.—Arrangements are being completed for the removal of the various state offices from the legislative rooms in the Capitol next week in preparation for the opening of the legislative session Jan. 12. The state has leased the large Overland building on Wilson street, at the foot of King, two blocks from the capitol and for the next six years it will be known as the Capitol Annex.

It is said to be the plan to remove the Highway Commission, Conservation Commission, Probation Commission, State Board of Vocational Education, Real Estate Board, Oil Inspector, Treasury agent, State Fair secretary, state entomologist and seed inspector to the Annex; the Division of Markets to the rooms on the ground floor, north wing of the capitol now occupied by the Conservation Commission, the statistical department of the railroad commission to the rooms now occupied by the highway commission, the printing board to the fourth floor northwest, the War History Commission and Blue Book to the offices of the State Library Commission.

NEW SAVING STAMPS FOR 1921 ARE HERE

Uncle Sam Issues Dollar Thrift Stamps and $25 Saving Certificates.

New thrift stamps and treasury savings certificates for 1921 have been received at the postoffice ready for issue January 1. Small savers will be urged to become purchasers in larger numbers than ever this year, because Uncle Sam has issued two denominations that will no doubt have a popular appeal.

Those who considered the 25 cent thrift stamp too small can now buy dollar thrift stamps. They are non-interest bearing, but 25 of them can be exchanged for a $25 treasury savings certificate that bears interest the same as the five dollar thrift stamp. The latter sells for $4.12 in January and is redeemed for $5 in five years. The $25 certificate sells for $20.60, and the $100 certificate for $83.40.

The closing of the Coated Paper company which is one of the large industries of Appleton will throw several hundred hands out of employment.

The Tuttle Press company's plant on Union street has been closed down for several days and does not expect to resume operations until some time the early part of the new year. Of the large force employed under normal conditions less than half a dozen hands are now finishing up the year's work.

"We did not dismiss the employees at one time," said Chester Roberts, superintendent, but found it necessary to reduce the number as the market gradually became demoralized.

The temporary lull in business is being taken advantage of by the owners of the plant for making repairs and changes.

NO INCREASE IN SALE OF FIREARMS

Police and County Authorities
Want Law to Require Report of Gun Sales.

Woe unto any one who is found with a concealed weapon upon his person for it is cited in the state statutes that "any person, unless he is a police man, or other authorized officer, is liable to a fine or imprisonment for carrying a concealed weapon. A concealed weapon may be either a revolver or any firearm, bowie knife, dagger, or any dangerous or deadly contrivance."

The crime wave which is sweeping over the United States has not yet made its appearance here. Perhaps the first indication of the wave would be an increase in the sale of firearms and more cases in the courts. Dealers in Appleton say they sell only a few small firearms, and no increase in that trade has been noticeable. Most of them are acquainted with the law prohibiting selling, leasing or giving a firearm to anyone under the age of 21.

Sheriffs, constables or other public officers are authorized to take any firearm which they find on a minor. The fourth of July is practically the only time when Appleton police officers find minors carrying revolvers.

The law permits a man to carry a firearm so long as he keeps it in sight. However, a man walking down the street with a revolver in his hand, would undoubtedly be closely questioned, and the revolver might eventually be confiscated, unless the man was able to give a very good reason for carrying the firearm.

Dealers in Appleton are not required to report the sale of a firearm as they are in many cities. Neither do the prospective buyers explain their reason for wanting a gun. Hardware dealers say their customers ask for a revolver and buy one which they like, without attempting to explain they want it "to keep in the house."

However, the dealers have a sales book in which they record the sale of every small firearm, together with the name of the buyer, his address, and similar information.

An ordinance of the city gives the chief of police power to grant permits for the carrying of concealed weapons, but there is no such phrase in the state statutes, so the city ordinance is void. Had he such power, Chief Prim said, he would not grant permits, for he can not see any reason why one should want to carry a firearm.

"If there is not an ordinance that requires dealers to report the sale of guns," said Fred V. Heineman, district attorney, "there should be one."

Gloves, Purses, Babies Lost In Local Theatres

Female of Species is More Careless Than Male, Theater Managers Say.

When Appleton people, especially Appleton women visit a theatre, it is quite their custom to leave some "souvenir" behind them, ranging from coat buttons to pocket books or even their babies, according to local theatre managers. It is claimed that theatre managers are the most generous with their "souvenirs," probably due to the fact they remain in the atmosphere of the show for a greater length of time than men, and fall to take inventory of their parcels.

"One of the strangest things ever lost in the Majestic theatre was the inside works of a watch which fell from the case the other evening," said Carl Beglinger, manager. "We were never able to find them, so some one evidently picked them up before we searched. There are very few lost articles turned in at the box office. People lose things when they put on their wraps and the next person coming along picks them up. We would appreciate it very much if the articles would be turned in at the office.

"Young ladies between the ages of eighteen and nineteen years lose the most articles."

"Scarfs, gloves, handkerchiefs and hat pins bear mute testimony to the fact the female of the species is more careless than the male," Rosaries and empty pocket books are frequently dropped. A pair of cuff links was left at the office recently. An empty bottle marked "Chloroform Tablets" was picked up Monday evening.

The manager of the Frank Winninger company said that an important costume in "Tilly" was almost lost in the Bijou theater Monday evening.

Frank Winninger, who played the part of the old "Doc" has a quick change just before the last scene in "Tilly." He left his costume in the wing near where the pony, which is used in the last scene, was tied. Pony must have been hungry. When Mr. Winninger appeared the trousers were hopelessly mutilated. Then followed a quick search for another pair to fit Mr. Winninger.

"A woman lost her hat in the crowd as she was leaving the Appleton theatre recently," said Henry Griber, manager of the playhouse. "It disappeared very suddenly, but was found shortly after, caught on the button of the lapel of a man's coat."

"Ever so many gloves are lost here. Rosaries and purses and scarfs are frequently dropped. A package of gum and one of toothpaste were found this week."

Manager Neil Duffy of the Elite theatre found a baby asleep in the theatre after the matinee recently. The mother was so interested in the show that she forgot her child when she left the playhouse. About fifteen minutes later the excited woman hurried back to the theatre and claimed the youngster.

"We find more buttons from ladies' coats than anything else," said Mr. Duffy. "People, as a rule, are honest, and return whatever they find to the box office. A purse containing over $22 was found here by a college girl. I noticed in the last column of the daily that some one had lost a purse answering to the description. The purse was returned to the owner, and the college girl received a reward for her honesty."

"I was called out of bed at six o'clock one morning by a telephone call from a woman who insisted that she had left her purse in the theatre the night before. We were unable to find it after a thorough search. Several days later, she called me up and apologized. She had found it in her own home."

"Women are much more careless about losing things than men. We find ever and ever so many empty candy boxes after a show. One group of girls came in to the show a few days ago with a five pound box of candy. After the show we found the empty box. They had eaten the whole five pounds during the show," concluded Mr. Duffy.

TAX OFFSETS CAUSE OF MUCH CONFUSION

Should Obtain Receipt When Paying Personal Property or Income Taxes.

It may be appropriate at this time to call the attention of taxpayers to the law relating to personal property offset. Considerable confusion is often caused by mistakes on this point. When the taxpayer's income tax and his personal property tax are both assessed against him in the same district, the taxpayer should pay the larger of the two. Should the income tax be $180 and the personal property tax $200, the taxpayer should pay $180.

The mistake is easily made in thinking that only the difference, or $20, need be paid. If the $100 is paid the receipt therefor will take care of just the income tax.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR VETERANS OF WAR

Y. M. C. A. Is Able to Assist Veterans to Better Their Education.

Outagamie county's allotment from the National War Works Council for scholarships for returned soldiers is $1,683. The money is from the fund subscribed in the United War Work campaign and not for war work. The object is to provide educational opportunity for the soldiers who fought in the world war. S. A. T. C. men are also included.

George F. Werner is the county representative and all applications from soldiers for scholarships are being received by him. Mr. Werner said 10 men from Appleton had received scholarships, which range from $50 to $200, according to the expense of the school and the length of the course. Seven others veterans from Outagamie county have taken advantage of the opportunity of bettering their education.

About $1,545 has been used in the county and there are applications enough to cover the rest of the allotment. Another allotment, however, will be made at the beginning of the new year. In case a county does not use the entire amount of its allotment, another county may ask for an increase if it has applicants demanding the scholarships.

The total amount given to the state is $72,744, and the amount used up to Dec. 15, was $44,276.63.

Why Dread Old Age?

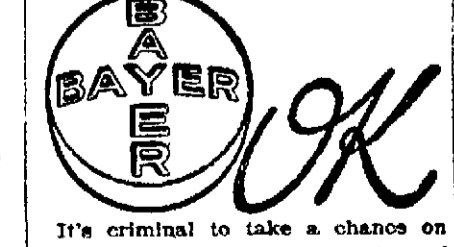

It doesn't matter how old you are, if you keep well and active. Many folks are younger at 70 than others at 60. Lame, bent back, stiff, aching joints, bad eyesight and deafness are often due to neglected kidney trouble and not advancing years. Don't let weak kidneys age you. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made life more comfortable for thousands of elderly folks. Ask your neighbor.

Appleton Testimony
Mrs. J. Sipier, 1012 Second Ave., says: "I suffered from rheumatic twinges in my body. My back became lame and sore and pained so I could hardly walk. My kidneys were in bad condition, too. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they removed the backache and regulated my kidneys. The rheumatic pains were greatly relieved, too. I get Doan's at Voigt's Drug Store." adv.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

It's criminal to take a chance on any substitute for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy (in boxes of twelve tablets) cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate acid.

INK FADES FROM OLD DEED RECORDING BOOK

By reason of the ink fading the greater part of Volume 3 of Deeds in the register of deeds office at the court house has to be recopied and the work, which will require several weeks, has been commenced. The copying will be done by employees of the office during their spare moments. The volume covers the transfers made by pioneers of the county, from 1850 to 1858. The recording was done in long hand. The last volume of deeds is No. 138.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Among the real estate transfers recorded at the office of register of deeds Wednesday were: George L. Fargo, Jr., to Albert W. Fargo, lot in Kaukauna, consideration $6,700; August Jahnke, Sr., to August Jahnke, Sr., lot in Sixth ward, consideration, private.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You—Drink Lots of Water

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Practice for a wrestling team at the Y. M. C. A. will begin at 7:30 Tuesday evening, Jan. 4, 1921. A number of young men are expected to enroll.

RAILROAD REGULATION

The question of state's rights has been a subject of controversy ever since the constitution was put into force. Even when the American colonies were first welded together colonial jealousies intervened to give prominence to the rights of a state to handle purely state affairs as it pleased. Almost immediately with the formation of the republic this issue came to the fore, and it has been with us down to the present time. The uniform result has been a reduction of sovereign state powers and an enlargement of federal powers. This has been true in regard to slavery, commerce, suffrage, prohibition and many other matters.

Up to the present time the right of a state to regulate commerce within its territorial limits has been universally accepted. Necessarily this prerogative carried with it the right to regulate railroad rates on intrastate traffic. This right has now been challenged by the Interstate Commerce commission. And it will be determined only by an appeal to the United States supreme court.

When the Interstate Commerce commission last summer gave railroads increased rates on interstate business a number of states refused permission for similar increase in rates for purely state traffic. This has resulted in considerable confusion. Interstate rates are higher in some instances than intrastate rates. Where states have refused to advance rates within their jurisdiction the railroads have suffered because of the fact that the increases they expected to receive have not been realized. The public on the other hand, without analyzing the situation, has invariably sustained the state for resisting the increases on intrastate traffic.

Among the states which have refused to increase rates or which are contesting the orders of the Interstate Commerce commission are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and a number of others. The Interstate Commerce commission contends that lower intrastate rates "are found to be unduly preferential of intrastate passengers, unduly prejudicial to interstate passengers and unjustly discriminatory against interstate commerce."

The order of the Interstate Commerce commission, if upheld by the United States supreme court, removes from state regulation every transportation line which crosses a state line. This is what the railways of the country have long desired. There are arguments both for and against it. It may or it may not be in the interest of passengers and shippers to have all railroad regulatory authority invested in the federal government. From the standpoint of the railroads it is desirable, and there is hardly any question that from a scientific and business standpoint the railroads would be placed in a better shape, and in all probability transportation itself improved, by giving the federal government complete authority over this class of common carriers. The matter is, of course, of great importance to the states and to the people in their relation to transportation, and it is to be hoped that they will be as thoroughly and capably represented in the legal disposition of the matter as are the Interstate Commerce commission and the railroads.

TOO MUCH SAFETY FIRST

"Safety First" may be a good idea, but carried to extremes it robs an individual or a people of courage, initiative, and the pioneer instinct. That is the danger confronting this nation today, says an article in the Homiletic Review of New York. The "safety first" principle is so widely applied at present, according to this article, that it includes every issue now before the public, "the money established interests, the affairs of labor, the new world outlook, the constitution and the state, to the detriment of new ventures into truth."

"Some even dream," continues the writer, "of making the world safe. We must be getting old and weak thus to mistrust the new. Radicalism has got on the nerves of a frightened generation, as though it were a terrible, unheard-of innovation. The newspapers avoid and distort subjects because they are 'unsafe.'"

"The pulpist, the schools, the colleges are never at their best when they avoid the open light of day. All worthy things involve danger. And any preacher whose preaching is 'safe' (we have known cases where that was the main consideration in the choice of candidates) has missed the prophetic note. We associate prophecy with courage and danger, not with softness of words; speaking soft, somnolent things is a sure way of cheapening the profession which should, above all others, show men the way into new and untrodden words of truth. There is very serious danger just now of making a fetish of safety."

It will seem to most people that the present instinct for that which is quiet and safe is but a natural reaction from fearful agitation and that once things have settled down a bit, the old fearless, truth-seeking instinct will still be found very much alive in the human breast. But for all that, there is a great deal of truth in the contention that, the doctrine of safety can be carried to unsafe bounds.

THE LIQUOR RAIDS

The raiding of illicit liquor traffic in Wisconsin is the logical result of this law violation. That it did not come sooner is doubtless due to the fact that the prohibition enforcement authorities have had more on their hands in other directions than they could attend to. It is useless and ludicrous for the northern mining towns to resist the federal officers. When they pay their fines or commence serving time in jails these violators may realize also that it is a senseless thing to defy the United States government. All of the violations are deliberate, many of them have been committed in the face of warnings and previous offenses. With these latter the law is likely to deal severely, and they merit severity.

It is no concern of the government that the prohibition law may not be working as it was intended. It is no concern of the government whether the people like the law or not, its only duty is to enforce the law and it would be subversive of government itself if it evaded this responsibility. Prohibition is a farce in many cities and localities. It is easily defeated, and so long as the prescription regulations and other loopholes stand there will be plenty of liquor for all at a price. These are merely defects in the details of applying prohibition.

But prohibition is the law of the land, and its open violation cannot be tolerated. Those who defy the constitutional amendment must expect sooner or later to pay the penalty of their foolhardiness. Those who manage to evade it with cunningness or by technically keeping within its provisions are in a different class, they are simply trying to get liquor to drink. Attempts to serve this element by bootleggers and saloonkeepers are perilous and in the long run are certain of detection and punishment. The doctor remains the safer medium for those without storage and whose thirst must be quenched, although that funnel is likely to be reduced when the prohibition department gets around to the job.

The merits of prohibition are not involved in enforcement. The law must be upheld to the limits of federal power, a power which is very great, and all efforts in this direction should have the approval and support of the people.

REPEAL

"Repeal, repeal the war-time laws!"
 So say our legislative sages.
 Well, that's all right, but who's the cause
 Of this repeal of war-time wages?

"Repeal the war-time laws at once!"
 So say the Washington advisers.
 We'd also like to see some stunts
 Repealing several war-time prices.

"Repeal the war-time laws!" they cry:
 "The earth runs peaceful on its axis."
 Oh, very well, but who's the guy
 Who will repeal our war-time taxes?"

THE POPULAR EXERCISE FAD

Exercise is a two-edged weapon, like most good medicines. It is capable of doing serious harm when unintelligently prescribed and it is unintelligently prescribed by a number of physical culture charlatans and mail order schemers, for those who like that sort of thing.

If I have seemed to place greater emphasis on exercise as a remedial agent than I have placed on drugs, that is certainly not because I imagine exercise is a better or more essential remedy than drugs. I have urged the value of exercise for sedentary people who hope to keep reasonably well; I have not prescribed exercise or exercises for any individual case, and I have informed a great many correspondents that I am unable to prescribe such a remedy for an individual case without having personally examined the patient to determine whether exercise is advisable, and if so, what exercise and how much. I regret to find so many readers imagining exercise is a cure-all which can be blindly employed without regard to individual circumstances or requirements.

A good many victims of such serious disease as tuberculosis are daily weakening their chances of arrest by indulging in unadvised or ill-advised exercise, even such moderate exercise as walking about. It is nothing less than foolhardy for any victim of that disease to take so much as a stroll around the house without the explicit direction of the physician who knows his individual requirement—and no physician can know that who has not recently examined and observed the patient. The indiscriminate prescription of exercise for those who happen to have tuberculosis, as is done altogether too frequently by the physical culture charlatan and the mail order faker, is responsible for much unhappiness on the part of TB victims and their friends.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cold Cream

What is a good formula for a cold cream? (Miss L. K. D.)

ANSWER—The best formula is that given in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia which every druggist has, and the preparation is there called Unguentum Aquae Rosae (Ointment of Rose Water). Any reliable pharmacist can prepare any desired quantity on order—and of course cold cream should be freshly made.

How Many Oranges?

Are oranges good for one? How many oranges may one eat without injury every day? Is it harmful to take the juice of half a lemon in a glassful of water at frequent intervals through the day? Is drinking hot water at frequent intervals through the day beneficial for one or is it liable to cause cancer as I have recently heard? (J. D.)

ANSWER—Oranges are wholesome, usually beneficial, in any quantity daily. It is not harmful to take lemon juice in a pint of water every morning—might even be beneficial but don't let any one make you believe that this can possibly reduce flesh. I do not advise the drinking of hot water or any other hot beverage as a habit. Some physicians do think that drinking or eating things that are very hot may favor cancer of the stomach. In any case, it is certainly not a healthful practice.

Chapped Lips

My lips are always chapped in cold weather. They seem to be dry and I have a constant desire to moisten them with my tongue, especially when in a warm room with many people. Is that mere nervousness? (L. I. B.)

ANSWER—Probably a habit caused by the condition of the lips, but it tends to aggravate the chapping. Better use this lotion two or three times a day on the lips:

Glycerin, tincture of benzoin, alcohol. Equal parts of each.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Thursday, Jan. 2, 1895

J. Jagodnig spent New Year's day with relatives at Neenah and Menasha.

The Rev. Father O'Brien of Green Bay was an Appleton visitor.

The Misses Edna and Maud Zonne attended a Guild party at Menasha.

Miss Zella Lamphear of Idaho Springs, formerly of Appleton, was calling on friends.

George Heath left for Oconto, where he accepted a position with the Falls Manufacturing company.

Prof. Theodore Brockman of Chippewa Falls, formerly principal of St. Paul Lutheran school, was visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Trever went to Milwaukee to visit their son, the Rev. Dr. Trever, pastor of Washington avenue Methodist church.

The Misses Barbara McNaughton and Laura Lummis entertained the evening previous at the home of the former at a phantom party.

John Kuehlthaus, formerly of the Menarch Brewing company, completed the course at the Brewing academy in Chicago, where he graduated second in a large class.

George Bemis and Miss Meta Trotter were married New Year's day at the home of the bride's mother, corner of Meado and Hancock streets. The Rev. J. S. Davis performed the ceremony.

Announcement was made of the engagement of H. J. Ingold and Miss Jeanne Ballard.

Miss Stella Tanner entertained New Year's evening in honor of Miss May Bomier and L. J. Robinson.

The two mills of the Manufacturing Investment company, one in this city and the other at Madison, Maine, were operating at full capacity and the total output was 70 tons of paper per day.

BY LETTER AND NUMBER

When one asks: "What kind of a man is he?" and the answer is given: "He's A. No. 1," the definition is plain enough. It is as plain as the nose on a man's face—his first class in every particular, worthy of confidence and the possessor of merit.

How "A. No. 1" came to be a synonym for excellence is interesting too. At is a notation in Lloyd's Register, the British shipping guide, and it applies to a ship as being in first-class condition both as to the hull and to the stores aboard the vessel.

The character A is used to denote either new ships or ships that have been restored until they are as good as new. The stores of the vessels are described by the figures one or two; if "well and sufficiently found," then the figure one is used. So, in Britain, A1 indicates a high degree of excellence; over here the same thing is expressed by A. No. 1.

Just how long ago the term passed into popular speech as it is at present applied, is not known, though Charles Dickens used the figure as early as 1847. A tramp painter known the world over discarded his name for "A. No. 1," which he painted on every railroad station in this country.

Determination For Women.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Washington, D. C.—The old theory that husband and wife are one person—and that one person is the man—is soon to be brought up to Congress for scrutiny and revision.

The American woman has the vote, having an unenviable, unfavorable decision of the Supreme Court, and she is now training her guns on other discriminations against her sex. In this case the desired change is that an American woman who marries an alien shall remain an American citizen, instead of suddenly being transformed into a Swede, Italian, or Turk, or whatever else her husband may be.

For years, it was an accepted fact that a wife should go where her husband went, have no interests of any importance except his interest, automatically renounce her citizenship for his, and in their way become what the feminists like to call a submerged personality. The laws have upheld this creed, and the courts have enforced it. It apparently worked smoothly enough so long as the great majority of women stuck to fancy-work, poodles, and pies.

Occasionally, a woman married to a foreigner appealed to a state court for the right to regain her status as an American. Sometimes the courts decided in her favor, but generally against her. Finally, in 1907, Congress ended the uncertainty in this particular matter by a Federal law. The naturalization laws already provided that an American man marrying a Mexican girl thereby conferred on her the full American citizenship. The new law added to this decree that an American woman marrying a Mexican, or any other foreigner became a subject of his country. This act of 1907 was in accordance with common law and most of the state courts, and Congress doubtless thought that the controversy was settled forever.

But even then, women were beginning to demand a place in business life, and the limitations set by the law were resented forcibly upon them. It was no use bringing up individual cases in court, for the act was unmistakably clear. Women affected by the law of 1907 have protested in increasing numbers ever since it was written, but nobody paid much attention, even during the war, when a number of American girls lost their property and their homes and were in general treated as enemy aliens.

But now, with the power of the vote back to them, women's organizations have begun to work for a new law.

"Both the big political parties promised independent citizenship in their platforms," says one of the women politicians. "Heretofore, platform promises haven't meant much. We want proof that things are different now."

Two Bills Offered

Two bills have been drafted, one by Representative Rogers of Massachusetts, which leaves the citizenship of an American woman the same after marriage to a foreigner as before, so long as she retains her residence in this country. The bill also makes it necessary for the alien woman marrying an American man to take out naturalization papers if she is to become a citizen of this country. By the present naturalization law it is impossible for a married woman to take out naturalization papers. Her citizenship is automatically decided, except in a few instances when Congress has passed special bills restoring American born women to citizenship at their request for some particular reason.

The other bill before Congress was introduced by Representative Anthony of Kansas, a nephew of the famous Susan B. Anthony. Representative Anthony's bill would allow American women now married to aliens in the United States to regain their citizenship by legal procedure. For the future, the bill provides independent citizenship for women.

A number of women's organizations are backing these bills. The Daughters of the American Revolution recently passed a resolution favoring the passage of one of them.

The National Woman's Party is also interested in the proposed reform. Until its convention in February, however, the party cannot take up any new activities. Its reason for existence was to work for the suffrage amendment, and it will be for the convention to decide whether the party is to be dissolved, or for what aims it will exist in the future.

The National League for Women Voters, another body widely organized for women's assistance in political matters, has taken up the cudgel for independent citizenship for women. This league is sponsoring six bills in the interests of women, and the Rogers citizenship bill is one of the six.

The league does not know when Congress will get to these bills. There is reason to believe that Congress will do little besides settle appropriations and routine matters at the present session. But remembering how long it took to get the suffrage amendment through, the women are not discouraged. They have a more forceful argument in the vote than they ever had in tears, smiles, or simple appeals to the congressional sense of fair play. A new citizenship law will come. They know that. What they are trying to do is to hasten the last days of the old discriminations which work hardship and sometimes suffering on American-born women.

International Marriages

The existing discrimination so far as citizenship is concerned, affects only married women, but there have been a great many of these. No one seems to know exactly how many American girls marry foreigners. It has been estimated that since the war 20,000 alien women have become Americans by marrying American men. There is, no doubt, a similar number of American women who have lost their citizenship in the same period, many of them unwillingly.

Inez Milholland Bolles, a well-known suffragist, was one of a number of women refused permission to practice law in New York because her husband was a Hollander, and therefore she was also. The restriction here is not peculiar to New York. Aliens are admitted to the bar in few, if any, of the states. This means that if an American girl, educated to be a lawyer, marries a Canadian or any other alien, she cannot follow her profession so long as she remains in this country. The same prohibition applies in many states to school teaching, and in some places the alien may not hold property.

How It Works Hardship

This obviously works a hardship upon the married woman whose husband happens to be a foreigner who has not taken out papers. Perhaps he is in this country on business, or again he may expect to remain over here some years in a university. Whatever his status, the woman who advocates the Rogers and Anthony bills claim that discrimination against his wife is unfair.

"We deny the American born woman the right to hold a Government job or to vote if her husband is a foreigner, but if a girl from Europe or South America comes to this country and marries an American boy, immediately we confer upon her all the rights and privileges of citizenship without waiting to inquire whether she knows what it is to be an American, or even whether she renounces allegiance to her native land."

Women of other countries are not less interested in the citizenship question than the women over here. Canada and Australia are the only two countries at present where women's citizenship is not altered by an international marriage. In England and other European countries there has been dissatisfaction felt and expressed. At the recent convention held by the executive board of the national council of women in Norway, representatives from a number of countries declared their intention of working for a change in the citizenship laws of their countries.

CHARGE BUILDERS WITH VIOLATING SHERMAN ACT

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Indictments were returned by the federal grand jury here today charging four corporations and eleven individuals with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. This was the first action of federal authorities following investigation of charges made before the Lockwood committee investigating building and housing conditions.

The four corporations mentioned in indictments were:
The Goodwin-Gallagher Sand and Gravel corporation; the Manhattan Sand company; the Lenox Sand and Gravel company; the Colonial Sand and Gravel company.
Each indictment contained two counts, charging first, conspiracy in restraint of trade, and second, conspiracy to establish a monopoly.

MENTIONED FOR CABINET POST

Washington.—Henry C. Wallace (above) and John R. Howard (below), both of Iowa, stand out in the front ranks among those mentioned as possibilities for Harding's secretary of agriculture. Wallace is 56 and editor and publisher of Wallace's Farmer and other farm periodicals. Howard is 46 and president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He has a 400-acre farm in Marshall Co., Iowa, where he works out problems of production and farm management. Neither has ever held public office.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

While few houses in the city have a cistern to catch the water from the caves nearly every person in the town or county is more or less dependent on the cistern for water for household use. And soft, cistern water is delightful to use except that it will get black in the winter when people must have furnaces going.

If you do not have a specially constructed cistern that filters the water and keeps it fairly clear try putting half a pound of powdered alum in the water. The alum should be put into the cistern at night giving the water 12 hours to settle.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—California grapes, cereal with top milk, buttered toast, marmalade, coffee.

LUNCHEON.—Pigs in blankets, quick bran bread, stuffed baked apples, tea.
DINNER—Cream of chestnut soup, beef loaf, creamed potatoes, stewed tomatoes, banana and peanut salad, drop cakes, coffee.

My Own Recipes
When a fruit salad is served it is seldom necessary to serve an elaborate dessert. If a heavy sweet is to finish a dinner, a fruit salad is distinctly out of place. Cookies, macaroons, or any simple little cakes give just a suggestion of a sweet course and make something to nibble at with the coffee.

PIGS IN BLANKETS
1 pint large oysters
¼ pound sliced bacon
lemon juice
salt and pepper

Wash and drain oysters. Dry between towels and season with lemon juice, salt and pepper. If the oysters are very large, roll one in a slice of bacon and secure bacon with toothpicks. If the oysters are not big use 2 or 3 to a slice of bacon. Put the "pigs in blankets" in a hot frying-pan and broil on first one side and then the other. Serve very hot.

STUFFED BAKED APPLES
4 large apples
8 dates
preserved cherries
1 tablespoon butter
4 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup water.

Pare apples and cut a slice from stem end. Remove core. Remove stones from dates. Fill the apples with 2 dates for each apple and 3 or 4 cherries with their sirup. Put apples in a pan and bake with a sirup made of the butter, sugar and water. Bake in a moderate oven till apples are tender. Serve with whipped cream or plain as baked.

MEXICO WANTS TO DEAL WITH HARDING

New Regime South of Border Angling for Conference With Next President.

By Ralph H. Turner
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The new regime in Mexico is getting ready to deal with the Harding administration, diplomats here declared today and with that end in view has revived efforts to discuss "preliminaries" with some representative of the American president-elect.

According to advices from Mexico City, the new attempt to reach a preliminary understanding with the incoming administration seeks to arrange a conference between an emissary from Obregon and a representative from Harding who may speak with authority.

If such a conference were held, the Obregon regime would seek to establish terms which would pave the way to recognition upon the inauguration of Harding, it was learned here. In support of this reported course of action by Mexico, it is pointed out in diplomatic circles that Mexico's failure to answer the recent note from Secretary of State Colby indicates she has decided to await the inauguration of Harding before renewing a formal effort to obtain recognition.

W. H. Winter of Madison, spent Wednesday here on business.

PENROSE TO DIRECT TARIFF BILL FIGHT

Chairman of Finance Committee Will Lead Battle in Washington.

By L. C. Martin
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the finance committee, is expected in Washington next week to take personal charge of the fight over the emergency tariff bill. Senator McCumber, ranking republican member of the committee, announced today.

No definite time has been set for Penrose's arrival and his health may make it impossible for him to come at all but McCumber said Penrose plans to be here for a few days if possible. Finance committee consideration of the tariff bill will await Penrose's coming. McCumber said today he would not call a formal meeting of the committee until after he has talked with Penrose.

An informal conference of republican members of the committee will be held tomorrow to discuss proposed amendments in the bill as the house passed it.

McCumber, who spent yesterday with President-elect Harding at Marlton, said his position on tariff legislation has not been changed by his talk with Harding. McCumber is for the bill.

Penrose is believed here to be against the emergency tariff bill. Some time ago he telephoned house leaders he stood against the passage of piecemeal tariff legislation. Senators and representatives from manufacturing states and districts oppose the bill also.

No Mail Delivery
There will be no mail delivery of mail, either city or rural, from the Appleton postoffice New Year's day. The stamp, general delivery, money order and registry windows will be open from eight to ten o'clock.

SELECT ESCORTS FOR INAUGURAL

Many Badger Notables Will Witness Ceremonies at Capitol Monday.

Madison—Judged from the number of responses, upwards of 5,000 people will be present at the inaugural ceremonies to be held in the capitol next Monday. This was the estimate made at the final meeting of the general inauguration committee Monday afternoon. Announcement was made of escorts of the different officials.

Adjutant General Holway will accompany W. R. Bagley, master of ceremonies; Mayor L. N. Kittelson, President E. A. Birge, Gov. E. L. Phillips, Lieut. Gov. E. F. Dithmar, Secretary of State Meritt Hull, H. L. Butler, Frank L. Gilbert, Dr. Joseph Shaffer, Frank W. Hall, Judge A. C. Hoppmann, Judge E. Ray Stevens, Judge A. G. Zimmermann, R. B. Smith, Ralph W. Jackman, the Rev. W. J. McKay, chaplain; Chief Justice R. G. Siebocker, Gov.-elect J. J. Blaine, Lieutenant Governor-elect G. F. Comings, Secretary-elect Elmer S. Hall, State Treasurer Henry Johnson, Attorney General-elect W. J. Morgan, Supt. C. P. Carp, Justice J. C. Kerwin, Justice M. B. Rosenberry, Justice A. J. Vinje, Justice F. C. Eschweiler, Justice W. C. Owen, Justice Burr W. Jones.

The inaugural ceremonies at noon will be opened by a chorus of forty voices singing America. Prayer will be offered by the Rev. W. J. McKay. Chief Justice R. G. Siebocker will deliver a short address and administer the oaths. The program will be closed by singing the Star Spangled Banner. In the afternoon, receptions will be held from 5 to 6 o'clock, followed by a dance in the evening, commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

STEPHENVILLE IS HOST TO MANY HOLIDAY VISITORS

(Special to Post-Crescent.) Stephenville—Mr. and Mrs. William Klatt of New London spent Christmas at Mike Tremmel's home. Miss Carrie Davey returned Thursday evening from New York, where she spent several months at her home. Mrs. George Ross went to Wittenberg to visit her mother for a few days.

Merritt Gregory visited his sister, Mrs. Fred Pegel at the Riverside sanatorium Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schultz and daughters spent Sunday at Albert Schultz home.

Art Ludwig of Shawano, who is spending his vacation at home called on friends here Tuesday afternoon.

Charles Steidl returned to work at Gresham Monday morning, after spending Christmas with his family here.

THIEF AND FORGER VISIT NEW LONDON

Farmhand Is Charged With Forging Employers' Name to Checks.

(Special to Post-Crescent.) New London—Zeb Belonga, a pioneer resident, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elwood Luttrell in this city on Christmas day after suffering a fracture of the hip of about a week's duration. Mr. Belonga came to Waupesa county from Canada when a small boy and the county was mostly woods and Indian trails. He spent his boyhood days on a farm in Maple Creek, later moving to Northport where he resided several years. His wife preceded him in death several years ago. Deceased was 80 years of age and is survived by the daughter with whom he resided. He leaves a brother, Moses Belonga, and several nephews and nieces. The funeral took place from the Seven Day Adventist church Tuesday, of which he was a member. The Rev. Mr. Tofts of Oakshoah conducted the services.

Dr. I. M. Brown has just returned from Chicago where he attended a meeting of railroad surgeons of the Northwestern road. Dr. Brown also attended the banquet in the Sherman Hotel with about three hundred other physicians and officials of the road.

Manager F. H. King of the Borden Condensery is in Chicago where he has gone to interview officials of the Borden plant about local factory conditions. He was instructed that no milk received from the farmers should be canned or condensed after January 1. Mr. King says, however, that milk will continue to be received at the factory and the market price will be paid to farmers instead of a set price as in the past. The cream will be separated and sent to the Chicago market. Another matter of deep concern here is the laying off of half the Borden employees until March 1. The Borden factory which has been employing from three to four hundred men will have only about seventy-five men in its employ after Jan. 1.

New London suffered very little thievery during the holiday time. John Soffa being about the only loser. Thieves entered his billiard parlor, which is located on North Water street and took a large supply of tobacco and pipes and several boxes of candy. There is a ransom in the rear of the building which was used for entrance.

Charles Milgard, who has been employed by Charles Klechkofer, is alleged to have forged Mr. Klechkofer's name to two checks and cashed them at local business houses. One for $42 was cashed by W. J. Sader, local jeweler, and the other of $37 was cashed at the Christy Dry Goods store.

The "Lime Kiln Club" has announced a dancing party for the evening of January 4. The party will be a mask ball. The Grand Opera House has been engaged for the event and the Amphion Orchestra will furnish the music.

On New Year's eve, Dec. 31, the Horlick's fast team of Racine will play the Edisons on the local floor.

The terrific wind storm of Monday blew down several telephone poles in the town of Mukwa. The poles are being reset.

GREENVILLE ITEMS

(Special to Post-Crescent.) Greenville—Henry Thiel was an Appleton business caller Wednesday.

The Misses Clara Weinman and Ida Felton of Neenah and Private John Felton of U. S. Marine Corps, Portsmouth, Virginia, spent a few days of the week at the home of F. W. Schroeder.

John Stohman spent Monday in Hortonville.

Miss Esther Schulz who is employed in Milwaukee spent Christmas at her home here.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Krause Sunday.

The Misses Alice and Eva Schroeder of Northwestern College, Naperville, Illinois, are spending a few days with relatives here.

Will Thiel of Cicero visited with Henry Thiel Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Albrecht and daughter Gladys of Appleton spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schroeder and family.

SAWMILL WASTE CAN BE UTILIZED FOR ALCOHOL

Madison—That softwood lumber mill waste can be made to yield twenty gallons or more of 95 per cent alcohol per ton, and that hardwood waste will yield about half as much is shown by actual yields obtained from the waste of various woods by the forest products laboratory.

The manufacture of industrial alcohol is at present about the only feasible method of utilizing lumber mill refuse on a large scale. An alcohol plant with a daily supply of 180 tons of wood can produce 2,600 gallons of alcohol at a cost of approximately 25 cents a gallon, under present conditions.

The success of plants now in operation justifies a serious consideration of this process by mills which have a large quantity of waste, laboratory experts believe. A descriptive pamphlet including estimates of plant requirements and recent cost data on the manufacture of alcohol from wood is obtainable from the forest products laboratory on request.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar-syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "½ ounce of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

500 ATTEND PARTY BY WOMAN'S CLUB

Splendid Entertainment Is Provided for Large Number of Dancers.

About 500 people attended the dancing party given by the recreation department of the Appleton Woman's Club at Armory G Tuesday evening. The armory was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. A canopy of red streamers formed a false ceiling. A huge Christmas tree lighted with tiny electric lamps occupied the center of the floor. The radiators and stairways were banked with tiny Christmas trees. The musicians' balcony was luted in red and banked with green trees. Cozy nooks were furnished for the chaperones on either side of the orchestra. Furniture from the Appleton Woman's Club changed the bare corners into attractive reception rooms.

The "Dance of the Tinsel Fairies" was presented by the Misses Esther Ashman and Hannah Rosenthal in pale blue and pink costumes respectively. The little "fairies" appeared from among the boughs of the Christmas trees and danced about the tree. The girls prepared the dance almost

SALVATION ARMY TO HOLD WATCH NIGHT SERVICES

Special watch night services will be held at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Salvation Army. The Rev. George Verity will give a stereoscopic lecture on China as the first part of the program. A short address on China will be given by a Chinese student from Lawrence college, and a talk on Korea by a Korean student. The gathering will close with a consecration meeting, followed by refreshments. Several special musical numbers are to be rendered.

alone and the number was received with enthusiasm.

"The Unharmonic Band," lead by Monsieur San Souci (Estelle Chamberlain) was the source of much amusement. The members, dressed in gymnasium suits with red ties, marched into the hall to the strains of "John Brown's Body." They played four selections.

Mr. Stecker's orchestra furnished the music for the dance proper giving a happy combination of the new and old favorites. The next dancing party of the Club will be held Jan. 21.

SCOUTS INVITED TO LEGION MEET

Scoutmasters Will Be Assigned at Post Meeting Monday—Women Give Flag.

Formal assignment of John Voge as scoutmaster of boy scout troop No. 6 and Arthur Bunks as assistant will be a feature of the meeting of Onece Johnston post of the American Legion Monday evening at Elk hall. These men were named by Homer H. Benson, post commander, at a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday evening.

The troop was adopted by the post at its last meeting and its members are to be special guests Monday. Additional scoutmasters for other troops may also be recruited from the Legion ranks.

A second important feature of the meeting will be the presentation by the Women's Auxiliary of an official Legion flag. This event was postponed from November because the flag failed to arrive. A brief, impressive service has been arranged.

The entertainment committee has a new set of "stunts" up its sleeves which will be "sprung" after the formalities are over. Their nature is not divulged, but the amusements are expected to surpass those of the previous meeting. Lunch is to be served. The meeting is to start at eight o'clock.

Miss Katherine Rechner left Wednesday for Milwaukee, where she will spend the week end with relatives.

BAND AT ITS BEST FOR FREE CONCERT

Prof. Carl J. Waterman is on Program for Solos at Chapel Monday.

Appleton people may consider themselves fortunate to have free public band concerts in the winter. Very few cities provide this form of amusement except in the parks in summer time.

The council wants to find out how much Appleton people care for indoor concerts and will judge the demand by the number of persons by the Ninth Regiment band at 8:20 o'clock Monday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel. There will be no admission or collection, because the council has appropriated $2,000 to give Appleton 10 concerts without charge.

An innovation that music lovers will welcome is several solo numbers by Prof. Carl J. Waterman, tenor. He has selected three or four songs that will have a universal appeal. One solo is scheduled for the first half of the program and there will be several in the second half.

The band expects to be at its best for the opening concert and its members are already predicting a packed house. They are rehearsing a popular program that will meet the musical fancy of almost everybody.

The personnel of the band is such that a well balanced concert is possible. Most of the players have been carefully chosen and several skilled musicians have been added. The personnel of the band, in addition to Percy Fullinwider, director, and M. Steinhauer, drum major, includes: Elmer and piccolo, Loyal DeClerq; clarinets, M. J. Heynen, H. I. Smith, E. Boettcher, E. H. Potter, H. S. Griesbach, J. J. Froelich, Anton Fisher, Edward Kraus, Louis Lettman; saxophones, Frank Kraus, K. Fletcher; cornets, Elmer J. AUTOMOBILE ROAD HOGS ARE MENACING FARMERS

It is a little early for the ground hog to be out, but "road hogs" are said to be plentiful. Farmers and others forced to use horse drawn rigs are complaining about the lack of consideration given by motorists using the plowed highways. They help themselves to the whole road and the horse driver must take his chances.

High snow banks line both sides of the roads, making it difficult for either automobile or sleigh to turn out to pass each other. The only safe way, farmers state, is for motorists to stop their machines to permit horses to pass. They could at least drive close to the bank at the side, farmers state.

Good horses usually afraid of nothing are developing a fright because the machines speed by churning up a mass of snow. One has as much right to the road as the other, drivers claim, and the autoist should bear it in mind when he sees a horse approaching.

"LIGHTNIN'" SETS NEW PLAY RECORD

Famous Play Will Be Produced for 1000th Time in New York Next Saturday.

By Edward M. Thierry (Special to Post-Crescent)
New York—New Year Day will have a new significance along Broadway.

It will see a remarkable record set in the theatrical world—the one thousandth performance of a play!

For three years Frank Bacon's "Lightnin'" has been drawing capacity crowds. It's still going strong. No sign of a let up.

Its gross receipts are approaching the $3,000,000 mark!

No other play ever ran nearly so long. The American record was set some years ago by the play "A Trip to Chinatown," which ran 657 consecutive performances. In London "Chu Chin Chow" has been running nearly three years, but it is behind the "Lightnin'" record.

New Year Day and the 1000th performance will see a triumph that the veteran Bacon has been waiting years to achieve.

Bacon, a notable actor, himself wrote "Lightnin'" years ago. It is the "David Harum" of the stage. For ten years he peddled it up and down Broadway, but no producer would take a chance. Bacon wrote the play in 20 days but he couldn't sell it in ten years.

Finally John Golden took a chance and staged it. Instantaneous success came. The S. R. O. sign has been hanging out for three years. Bacon himself has played in every performance except the day he took off to celebrate his thirtieth wedding anniversary—by the way, almost an marriage record in theatrical circles.

No member of the original cast has ever been changed.

COUNTERFEIT $5. BILL FOUND IN CIRCULATION

Appleton bankers are warned by the Federal Reserve bank of New York that the secret service division of the treasury department has discovered a new $5 counterfeit Federal Reserve note in circulation.

The description reads: "On the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago; check letter 'D'; face plate No. 143; W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury; John Burke, treasurer of the United States, portrait of Lincoln.

"This counterfeit," the bank's letter says, "is printed from photomechanical plates of poor workmanship, on fair quality of paper, without silk threads or imitation of them. The number of the specimen at hand is G-3,061,329-A. The figures of this number are larger than the genuine, and more widely separated. The portrait of Lincoln is much darker than the genuine. The color is green instead of blue. The back of the note is more deceptive than the face."

VETERAN FIREMAN RESIGNS JAN. 1

Capt. John Conroy Withdraws as Assistant Chief Due to Ill Health.

After 26 years of continuous service, Capt. John Conroy, assistant chief of the fire department, has tendered his resignation to take effect January 1. His health is given as the reason for terminating his work as a fire fighter. He has been confined to his home for the last few weeks with illness, but is gradually improving.

Capt. Conroy was one of the three remaining members of the original force when the department was

YELLOW TRAIL HEAD PROMISES TO BE HERE

The appearance here January 17 of H. O. Cooley, Minneapolis, manager of the Yellowstone Trail association is assured in a letter received by Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce. He plans to visit practically every city or town through which the trail passes, including a stop at Menasha January 18.

Mr. Cooley will tell the inside workings of the trail administration showing how use of the Yellowstone highway is promoted, and what it means to the cities served.

changed from a volunteer to a paid basis November 21, 1919. The others are Chief George P. McGillan and Capt. Nicholas Reiter.

When McGillan became chief of the department 20 years ago next February, he appointed Capt. Conroy as his assistant. The captain has served in that office ever since, taking charge at fires when the chief was absent. He is eligible to pension from the fire men's benefit fund.

"I am sorry to lose Capt. Conroy as my assistant," said Chief McGillan. "We have served together for 20 years and have always gotten along splendidly. He was faithful and efficient and could always handle the department well in my absence. I know he hesitated to give up, but his health would not permit the further strenuous service demanded of a fireman."

CROUP

Croup comes like a thief in the dead of the night when least expected. It may take hours for a doctor to arrive, and immediate treatment is necessary. That is why the careful mother always keeps a bottle of Glesco in the home. Glesco has stood the test of time. It has been used in millions of homes for years. It is a reliable remedy. Safe and sure in action, immediate in relief. Glesco is guaranteed to relieve an attack of croup in fifteen minutes without vomiting. It carries the offending mucus out of the system and does not upset the stomach.

Ask your doctor about Glesco. Your druggist will tell you that there is more of it sold every year than all other croup medicines. It costs 50c per bottle and is worth ten times as much in time of need.

COUNTY ASKED TO ADOPT 250 ORPHANS

Near East Relief Campaign
Opens With Address Here
Next Week.

Outagamie county will be asked to repeat its generosity of last winter by which 250 Armenian orphans were kept alive all through the year. The same number has been adopted by the county executive committee in the hope that the county will pledge $60 for the support of each homeless child.

The opening wedge in a campaign to secure the support will be the appearance here Wednesday, January 5, of Miss Elizabeth Kelly, who speaks at eight o'clock at Lawrence Memorial chapel. She will tell the people of the county the exact situation which confronts the relief workers.

Miss Kelly is a returned worker and a former University of Wisconsin woman. She made the most stirring address at the recent state conference of Near East Relief Workers in Milwaukee, giving first hand information of Armenia's needs.

Miss Kelly declared that due to the efforts of Americans, at least 500,000 Armenians have been saved from starvation. She was stationed at Aintab, south of Armenia, for a year. She said not a loom is left in this place, which was noted for its spinning and weaving industry. The Turks had scrapped them, but the Americans replaced the lost, secured bales of cotton and soon had the women spinning garments for themselves and 2,000 children in that orphanage.

DOUBLE CAPITAL OF HORTONVILLE BANK

Capital stock of the Bank of Hortonville, Outagamie county, was increased from $25,000 to $50,000 in amendments to articles of incorporation approved by Marshall Cousins, commissioner of banking.

The commissioner also approved articles of incorporation for White Lake State Bank at White Lake, with a capital of $15,000; and authorized increased capitalization of Cottage Grove State Bank, Cottage Grove, Dane county, from $12,000 to $25,000; Cuba City State Bank, Cuba City, Grant county, from $20,000 to $50,000; and Suring State Bank, Suring, Oconto county, from $15,000 to $35,000.

The STAGE

"Hearts of Erin"
Walter Scanlan, whose delightful singing in the leading tenor role of Victor Herbert's "Eileen," won enthusiastic praise from the leading critics of the country, will shortly be presented here by George M. Gatts in a romantic Irish comedy by Charles Bradley and Lorin Howard. As one might expect in such a case, Mr. Scanlan will introduce a number of Irish melodies during the performance. Here Wednesday Jan. 5.

The Masquerader
Guy Bates Post and his excellent company are this season appearing in "The Masquerader", one of the few really worth while plays of the decade. The unusual company—the original New York one by the way—with its wealth of scenery, electrical effects and novel revolving stages.

This well known representative actor has never had a better vehicle than this. His manager, Mr. Richard Walton Tully has gone to absolute extremes in providing a production both ponderous and unique. Two crews of mechanics are carried by the company to insure proper stage effects. The management of the Davidson Theater, Milwaukee's leading theater, is giving special attention to out of town patrons in order that automobile and excursion parties may have seats reserved with as much care as though the purchaser were at the ticket office window. The play is booked for week of Jan. 9.

Mr. Post has played "The Masquerader" in Australia and Europe where he scored one of the greatest hits ever made by an American actor.

METHODISTS WILL WATCH YEAR OUT

Church Organizations Will Discuss Programs for the Coming Year.

Members of the First Methodist church will watch the old year out with a meeting Friday evening that will emphasize the program of the societies and organizations of the church. The first part of the meeting which will begin at 8:15 o'clock, will be briefly addressed by Dr. I. B. Wood, pastor, after which Mrs. J. L. Forbes, president of the Social Union; Mrs. N. H. Brokaw, president of the Woman's Home Missionary Society; Mrs. S. C. Rosebush, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society; Judson G. Rosebush, superintendent of the church school; Prof. Earl E. Emme, educational director; Miss Dorothy Wolf, president of the Epworth League; E. R. Henderson, boy scout executive; Miss Margaret Nicholson, leader of the Camp Fire Girls; and Prof. J. C. Lyner, chairman of the conference committee, will speak on "Our Program for 1921."

As a matter of friendly rivalry, a count will be made during the evening of the number of representatives of the different organizations present. This will be followed by a social hour when light refreshments will be served after which the Dr. T. D. Williams, superintendent of the Appleton district, will speak on "The Supreme Task of the Church for 1921." The closing session will be marked by the observance of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The benediction will be pronounced at twelve o'clock.

WISCONSIN WIRE WORKS IS HIT BY DEPRESSION

"With the exception of a slight decrease in the price of brass wire, our finished product costs us more at present than it ever did before," said J. D. Watson, manager of Wisconsin Wire Works, in discussing the peculiar condition of the market.

"We are still operating our plant," said Mr. Watson, "but are not running at full capacity. Some of our looms are down and we have temporarily released some of our employees."

The depression in the paper market affects the wire market and until paper conditions improve it is not expected that there will be any increased demand for wires.

Mr. Watson injured his foot about a month ago when a casting fell on it, but is now able to perform his duties with the aid of crutches.

Mrs. Louis Kemf and sons of Kaukauna, visited in Appleton Tuesday.

John Gerend of Kaukauna, attended the funeral of William Brill here.

STANDARD BODY WORKS PARTIALLY CLOSES DOWN

The Standard Body Works, which for several weeks, has been manufacturing phonograph record units, is practically closed down during the holidays, but expects to resume operations shortly after New Years.

When the demand for automobile bodies fell off several weeks ago, the company turned its attention to a new line of manufacturing in which it has already worked up an extensive business and in which it expects to continue even after it returns to the manufacture of automobile bodies.

Edward C. Smith, manager, is of the opinion that the present business depression will bring about many changes in the manufacture of automobile bodies and doubts if many of the smaller manufacturers of the state will survive. He said that all manufacturers in that line are hit hard and that the greatest burden falls upon the small plants.

Auto Plates Arrive
Automobile license plates for 1921 are already arriving in Appleton by parcel post. Several cars have already been seen the street carrying the new numbers. The 1921 plate is gray with black figures. Those who applied early were given low numbers or obtained their old number for another year. Application blanks are kept at the police station and county clerk's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Herkel and daughter, Helen, leave Thursday for their home in Manitowoc, after visiting in this city.

TRACTOR CO. LOOKS FOR BIG BUSINESS

New Company Is Prepared to Supply Demand for Farm Machines.

The Fox River Tractor company is preparing for a busy season next year. "I cannot see how it can be otherwise," said Frank Seiberlich, president, "for tractors are needed for both farm and road work, for threshing, and for nearly all other kinds of work."

The tractor which the Fox River Tractor company has just designed and placed on the market is of the heavier type. The company has the material assembled and work well advanced on twelve which will be completed before spring.

Within the last year the company designed its new tractor, made all its patterns and tools, built its plant and is now ready to supply the demand. At present it intends to confine itself to the manufacture of heavy tractors, but eventually will build various types.

Rudolph Schaefer, the well known Holstein breeder, has the distinction of having the first tractor built by the new company. The company exhibited its tractor at the recent tractor show at Milwaukee and it attracted a great deal of attention.

New Year Service.

A New Year's service will be held in the chapel of Memorial Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The pastor will speak on "New Year Resolutions." The service and New Year's greetings will be followed by a breakfast, served by the ladies of the church.

Resume Bible Classes

Bible study classes at the Y. M. C. A., which were discontinued during the holidays will reconvene on the first Tuesday in the new year. Teachers will all be ready to discuss lessons with those who attend. There is still room in any of the classes for men who are interested in any form of Bible study.

HARDING PICKS MEN FOR NEXT CABINET

March 4, but the secretary of state and treasury may be made known within two weeks.

Harding will discuss the cabinet situation at length today with Senator Knox, Pennsylvania, and Harry M. Daugherty, Edward B. McLean, chairman of the inaugural committee, is also due to go over tentative arrangements for the ceremonies on March 4.

Political Expediency

Some of Harding's cabinet selections will be rewards for political service, but others, notably Hughes, Dawes and Hoover, will be included because of their training and ability.

Daugherty managed Harding's campaign for the senate and for the presidency and is the most trusted man in the councils of the president-elect.

Hert, national committeeman from Kentucky, swung a big block of delegates to Harding at a critical moment during the Chicago convention. He also comes from the south and Harding is desirous of giving that section a place in his official family.

Hays, as national chairman, by tradition, goes into the postoffice department.

Sutherland represents the west which is most interested in the affairs of the interior department.

Wallace is backed by a large farmer following, being an agricultural publisher, but his advocacy of the Kenyon-Kendrick packer regulation bill has aroused opposition of some interests.

J. E. Howard, Iowa, president of the National Federation of Farm bureaus, is being urged on Harding for agriculture also.

Warren, former national committeeman from Michigan, was influential in bringing about the nomination of Harding.

Luben Stammer returned to his work at Seymour after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stammer.

PUBLICITY FOR MANDATE DETAILS

of the League (and they can only act through the Assembly) have not previously agreed upon the character of the mandate, then the Council shall prescribe the charter which shall confer the authority upon the mandatory and prescribe its extent and limitations. In other words, the relation of the mandatory to the League and, therefore, to the League Assembly (for that is the general and all-inclusive body) is that of an agent with delegated authority. The fact that the Council confers and prescribes the authority does not exclude the assembly of the League from having an interest in the mandate conferred and from knowing a right to know what they are. This is emphasized by the fact that the authority of the council depends upon the previous non-acceptance of the assembly in granting the mandate. For the council, therefore, to refuse to disclose to the assembly exactly what it has done in respect to mandatories is to assume an arbitrary and unreasonable attitude and leads support to the claim that the council is inclined to assert more power than it has or than it ought to have. As said in a previous article, the checks and balances by which the Council, with a majority in its membership of the great powers, may veto recommendations, the acceptance of which might throw on them a great burden, and under which, too, a majority of the members of the League may veto amendments, are well and carefully drawn to prevent an abuse of the power either by the great powers in the Council or by a majority of the smaller powers in the assembly. But the two bodies must work in harmony, and each must manifest a confidence in the other and must be willing to report its doings fully and completely to the other.

One of the four steps contemplated in the covenant toward the securing of peace and the avoidance of war is that requiring all treaties, including what have heretofore been secret agreements, to be spread on the open records of the League. If treaties must be open, why not mandates out of which important governmental rights and duties also may arise?

Much has been said in criticism of the refusal of a majority in the assembly to compel open sessions of committees, on the ground that it is a violation of the principle supposed to actuate the league of open covenants. This is unjust. It is of great importance that there should be harmony in the councils of the League, and therefore that there should be compromises. Compromises in committee work are much more easily brought about if the discussions are not open and men are permitted to withdraw from positions previously assumed with emphasis, without having their withdrawals or concessions noted in public. Pride or obstinacy of opinion thus often retards a possible compromise and interferes with the harmony that is sought. But after a compromise has been agreed upon, then the policy of open covenants requires that the result shall be made public. The attitude of the League council here seems to be, however, that where a matter is committed to the discretion of the council, as in the framing of a mandate, it is enough if the council and the mandatory knew what the mandate is without subjecting that mandate to approval or disapproval of the public opinion of the world as represented by the whole body of the League. This is a narrow view, inconsistent with the general policy of the League covenant.

It is quite evident, from the discussions and differences of opinion in the assembly that the powers of the council and the assembly and the relation between them should be more clearly stated and perhaps modified. Let us hope that the United States will take a careful part in proposing such changes as part of the general revision of the covenant which will enable her to enter the League.

Pittsburg Has Nothing On Our Prospect Street

How would you like to live on a street, where to sit on your front porch means to be covered with a fine black coating of coal dust; to clean your porch means to shovel off the cinders; and to keep clean means to become a human vacuum cleaner, to live in constant proximity to the scrub brush? This is what the residents of Prospect street say they are enduring daily. Housewives claim whenever the wind is in the south, a shower of coal dust comes from the smoke stacks of the factories and manufacturing plants, settling on their porches, sifting thru their windows, saturating their curtains and streaking their washing. The nuisance is most poignant in the summer when storm windows are removed and doors and windows are open.

"During the war, I suppose it was necessary for the factories to burn soft coal, but I don't see any excuse for it now," said Mrs. Lucy Reeve, 850 Prospect street.

"The smoke ruins our rugs and furniture, making us pay their coal bills. We have to pay for their economy."

The dust just sifts through everything.

"The smoke from the factories near here is a great nuisance," said Mrs. Joseph Koffend, Jr. "It is a gritty substance that clings. It is especially bad on white clothes in the washing. We have to sweep our porches at least twice a day in the summer."

Mrs. Matt Schmidt says that the smoke seems to come over in regular showers and one can hear the tiny particles as they strike the window pane, in dry weather. "If we open our bedroom windows on the south, the bed spreads just get black. We have to wash them once a week." She said that one could feel the gritty soot on the carpets and on the soles of one's shoes.

"We always have to wipe off the chairs before we dare sit down with summer dresses on," said Mrs. George Schmidt. "We can't have sofa pillows on the porches. We just have to clean all the time. It has only been this way for the past two years. We haven't noticed it as much since we have had our storm windows on."

Ticket Agent Injured

Robert Hench, ticket agent of the Ashland division of the Northwestern road, who sprained his knee while stepping from the depot platform to the ground several weeks ago, has been taking an involuntary vacation ever since at the suggestion of his physician and is unable to tell when he will return to work. He gets about with the aid of a crutch.

Ernest Ruff of Chicago, is visiting in the city.

READY TO TAKE UP NIGHT RIDER TRIAL IN FEBRUARY

Attorney Cochems of Milwaukee, who represents the plaintiff, has written H. A. Shannon, clerk of court, that he will be ready to try the case of Mrs. Lillian Black vs. Stephen Balliet, et al., on Feb. 8. The clerk of court has not heard from the attorneys for the defendants, one of whom is P. H. Martin of Green Bay, so is unable to state whether the case will go to trial at that time. The deposition of Mrs. Black was taken before L. Hugo Keller, court commissioner, at the court house about a month ago. The case was originally set for trial early in January, but had to be postponed on account of Attorney Cochems' absence in the east.

IMPAIR EFFICIENCY BY REDUCING SIZE OF NAVY

By United Press Leased Wire Washington—Reduction of naval personnel at this time would impair the efficiency of the navy and necessitate the withdrawal of several ships from active duty, Secretary Daniels said today.

Daniels' comment was in reply to the statement of Representative Patrick Kelly, Michigan, that the personnel of the navy could be cut to 100,000. Kelly, who is a member of the public affairs committee, conferred at Marion yesterday with President-elect Harding. The personnel of the navy today is 120,000. Daniels estimated, but the secretary added that he had recommended an increase to 145,000 as the figure necessary to maintain the navy's strength.

DRY NEW YEAR'S EVE PROMISED BY DRY OFFICIALS

Enforcement Officers Are Prepared to Sit on Volstead Cover.

By Ralph H. Couch

By United Press Leased Wire Washington—Prohibition Commissioner Kramer is determined there shall be no tilting of the Volstead cover on New Year's eve.

Federal prohibition officials are prepared to halt any attempt to turn the celebration of the new year into an orgy of imbibition such as used to occur in the days before the Volstead act, Kramer warned.

Even just one little slip will constitute a violation.

Approximately 1,400 federal prohibition agents will be on the alert tomorrow night, Kramer said. Furthermore, they will be assisted by thousands of police and local officials in all towns and cities if the law is carried out.

"Our agents know that there always has been a tendency to celebrate New Years with quantities of liquor," Kramer said today.

"Consequently they can be depended upon to take every precaution to see that the law is obeyed. I feel sure that there will be few violations if our agents have their way. No special instructions have been sent out from here, but that would be unnecessary," said Kramer.

"But I have no reason to suspect the police cooperation is not good elsewhere."

Prohibition officials now are uncovering all sorts of schemes to get liquor. New ones are invented every day to get around the regulations governing the withdrawal of liquor from bonded warehouses.

Faul Myers, acting commissioner of internal revenue, today told of investigations made by the prohibition officers.

"The Volstead law," explained Myers, "makes it legal to buy and sell certain kinds of alcoholic beverages to be used by religious organizations for sacramental purposes."

ST. LOUIS BUSINESSMAN DISAPPEARS FROM OFFICE

By United Press Leased Wire St. Louis—J. Oscar Boeck, secretary of the Guarantee Battery company, was missing today under mysterious circumstances. He was last seen in his office at 6 p. m. yesterday by Leo Lamken, superintendent of the company.

Lamken was held by police. He had been in the employ of the company only four weeks. He came here from Cleveland.

Boeck's shattered derby hat was found in a corner of the office. A watch, penknife and fraternal emblems were scattered about the office. A crumpled bit of dirty paper bore the words:

"We'll get you and your gang yet."

Police said no trace of the man could be found. They advanced the theory he may have been murdered and thrown into the river.

NAVAL PLANES START FLIGHT TO PANAMA

By United Press Leased Wire San Diego, Cal.—The navy seaplane flight from San Diego to the canal zone was officially under way at 8:25 a. m. today when 12 planes of the F-5 type took off from North Island navy air station.

They were to make a rendezvous at sea off San Diego and there take off a second time for the south. The first stop was to be made on the coast of Mexico.

The flight was to have started at about daylight but was delayed by a heavy fog which hung around Point Loma.

A squadron of supply ships and tenders already had been stationed along the bleak Mexican coast to care for the planes.

Miss Martha Hanson spent Christmas at the Hugo Beyer home, Seymour, as the guest of Frank Peotter.

HORICON MAN TO SPEAK AT FORUM

F. H. Clausen Will Present Employers' Side of Labor Problem.

"The Employer's View of the Industrial Problem" is to be presented at the People's Forum meeting at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening by F. H. Clausen, Horicon.

Mr. Clausen is general manager of the Deering Harvester company plant at Horicon. He was former president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association and was on the United States employment service board during the war. He is said to be a capable orator well versed on labor matters.

Labor's side of the industrial problem was presented at the last forum meeting before the holidays by John P. Burke. The other side will be given by Mr. Clausen. It is expected many laboring men will attend this meeting as the last, because of the widespread and popular interest in the subject.

JOHNS-MANVILLE CO. OFFICIAL IS DEAD

Bid $1,311 A Pound For St. Louis Cardinal Star

Baseball Players on the Hoof Are Worth Nearly as Much as Platinum.

By Henry L. Farrell
By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Baseball flesh on the hoof is getting into the platinum class. Last winter when Babe Ruth sold for $150,000, the market price reached the crest of $731 a pound.

The brokers who have cornered the prize stocks are holding out for still higher quotations.

The Rip Van Winkles who were blown out of their sleep last winter by the price that Babe Ruth drew, must have been knocked into a perpetual snooze last night when the St. Louis Cardinals turned down an offer aggregating $250,000 for Roger Hornsby.

"Five players and $200,000," the Giants tempted.

"I throw in Frisch and we will consider it," Sam Breacon answered.

Smelling salts were needed around the Giants' lair when they considered Frisch's market price of $50,000.

YANKEE NET STARS WIN FIRST GAMES

Tilden and Johnston Win Singles from Brookes and Patterson.

By United Press Leased Wire
Auckland, N. Z. — America's team got to an auspicious lead in the contests for the Davis cup here today by taking both the singles matches from the Australian team.

Wm. T. Tilden, American champion, defeated Norman B. Brookes, 10-8, 6-4, 1-6 and 6-4, but he had some difficulty in doing it.

William H. Johnston, former champion, had an easy time disposing of Gerald L. Patterson in straight sets at 6-3, 6-1 and 6-1.

The volleying and accuracy of Brookes' service was a feature of the first match. The court was a bit slow but solid.

When Tilden got his game started, he forced Brookes back by deep side line drives. The terrific pace of the first two sets seemed to tire Brookes at the start of the third set.

Johnston had an easy victory over Patterson in a match that lasted only an hour. Johnston drove with terrific speed and accuracy and he took every advantage of Patterson's weak back-hand and his erratic service.

William Koening of Waupaca, was an Appleton visitor Wednesday.

HILL IS WINNER OVER WINTERS IN 2 STRAIGHT FALLS

Appleton Grappler Pins Opponent With Headlock—Ahrens Also Wins.

George Hill, Appleton's heavyweight wrestler, took another step nearer the championship of Wisconsin when he won from Kid Winters in two straight falls before a big crowd at Armory G Wednesday night.

Although Hill took both bouts, he was forced to extend himself at all times and was often in precarious positions. Superior speed and strength won for him. Hill weighed 185 pounds and his opponent weighed 180.

In the semi-finals, Eddie Ahrens, Mackville blacksmith, won from Atkinson, Lawrence college star, in 13 minutes and 10 seconds. Ahrens weighed at least 25 pounds more than Atkinson but the smaller man was much faster and showed a greater knowledge of the game.

Horner and Riley, "Skeeter" weight grapplers went 15 minutes to a draw in the first preliminaries. In the second match Johnston pinned Horner after one minute of work.

Hill won both falls with his headlock, getting the first in 34 minutes, 40 seconds and the second in 28 minutes and 20 seconds. He used the headlock with telling effect many times in the two bouts but Winters managed to wriggle out of them.

The loser put up a game battle and several times had Hill in bad positions. He was as strong in the second bout as in the first, indicating a splendid condition.

Romanoff, a Gary, Ind., grappler, who has been seen in these parts, challenged the winner and it is probable a match will be arranged. Chief Martens, a Canadian grappler, also put in a bid to meet Hill.

Promoter Elmer Johnston will try to arrange a bout between Sanders and Hill for the near future. Sanders is one of the best men in the middle west and if he can be induced to wrestle here it is believed a record breaking crowd will witness the battle.

BUSHEYS WHIP CRANDON IN WHIRLWIND FINISH

After trailing Crandon by one point when the first half ended, the Bushey Business college basketball team made a whirlwind finish Tuesday night, defeating the northern boys on their own floor, 29 to 13. Crandon made only two points in the last period.

Kenney was the Bushey star, shooting baskets with as much accuracy as Willie Hoppe shoots billiards. He caged eight double counters in the second half.

Manager Fred Bushey is more than satisfied with the showing of his squad so far this year. The team has won a majority of its games, despite the fact that most of them were played in enemy territory and against some of the strongest teams in the state.

TWO BASKET GAMES FOR Y. M. C. A. OPEN HOUSE

Two basketball games have been arranged for the open house program at the Y. M. C. A. New Year's night. The first game will be between Little Chute and the second squad of Kimberly-Clark Co.

Kimberly-Clark first quint will meet an all star aggregation picked from the city of Appleton. The paper-makers will have the advantage of having played together. It is possible their team work will be the means of winning the game from the all stars.

INTERLAKES WIN HARD FIGHT FROM FOX RIVER

The Interlakes' basketball team retained second place in the Interfactory League after a hard fight with the Fox River-Tellus aggregation Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. The final score was 19 to 14. Kimberly-Clark defeated Appleton Machine-Woolen mill team 32 to 20. The Eagle Manufacturing - Valley Iron Works game was postponed.

The score in the first game was close throughout. It required considerable effort on the part of the Interlakes to keep ahead of their opponents. Boettcher and Fahstom starred for the Interlakes, Boettcher making 16 of the 32 points. Peterson starred for the Woolen-Machine team.

EARLY TRIAL FOR CHICAGO GAMBLERS

Indicted Baseball Players Will Be Given Hearing Within Three Weeks.

Chicago.—The preliminary hearing for the eight Chicago American league baseball players and five alleged gamblers who were indicted by the Cook county grand jury in connection with the alleged "throwing" of games in the 1919 world series will be held within three weeks, and the trial will begin shortly after State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe announced Tuesday night.

Crowe assigned George E. Gorman, second assistant state's attorney, to handle the case, and ordered him to prepare for an immediate trial. Crowe refused to say whether Hartley Replogle, former assistant state's attorney, who handled the grand jury investigation, would be connected with the prosecution of the indicted men. The grand jury, in its report, recommended that Mr. Replogle be employed as special prosecutor.

Gorman Tuesday night said he had not had time to get into the case thoroughly, but expected to devote the next few days to a study of the grand jury investigation, after which he would set definite dates for the preliminary hearing.

CHICAGO AND PRINCETON MEET ON BASKET FLOOR

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Chicago University and Princeton were all set for their basketball engagement here tonight and although the student body is scattered because of the holiday season, one of the biggest crowds on record is expected.

Both teams tapered off yesterday with light practice.

BAT NELSON WANTS TO BE A REFEREE

New York.—Bat Nelson, the old time lightweight champion, is going to be a referee. The famous battler has filed his application with the boxing commission and expects to get the necessary permit in a few days.

When the hero of a hundred fights visited the offices of the commission on Wednesday he expressed absolute confidence in his ability to handle the indicator and call them as they should.

Clearing the Road to Market

Hundreds of bushels of apples rotted in orchards within less than one hundred miles of New York and Philadelphia this last autumn. At the same time apples from Arkansas and the Pacific Coast were selling for ten cents each in retail markets of these cities.

Why were farmers so far distant able to reach these profitable markets when those nearby could not? The answer is COOPERATION. One group has adopted up-to-date marketing machinery, the others are struggling along with outworn selling equipment.

American farmers are the most progressive in the world in the use of modern machinery for producing their crops. But many of them still throw away good money by using old-fashioned methods of marketing.

In our community let's get the best results—let's all be cooperative farmers.

For your good and ours, we urge you to follow the advice of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN. Issue after issue, in editorial and article, it has been preaching the value of cooperation. Now it comes to our county to put a shoulder to the wheel—to help us help you. By presenting us with this series of ads it gives us a real example of cooperation. We can aid the good cause by boosting THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

If you are not already a regular subscriber, just send in your $1.00—bill or check—with the coupon below. You'll get the biggest value that one of your dollars ever bought. There is no surer way to keep posted on cooperation and all phases of profitable farming for two pennies a week!

IRREGULAR CHANGE IN GRAIN PRICES

Price Is Slightly Higher Despite Drop in Argentine Wheat Market.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Price changes were irregular on grain quotations in trade on the Chicago board of trade today with the trend toward a stronger market. There was a little selling of wheat at the opening due to the drop of 8 cents in the Buenos Aires market but this soon was absorbed and a general strengthening followed. Provisions were irregularly higher.

December wheat opened up 1 1/2 at 11.71 and gained another 1 later. March wheat opened unchanged at 1.66 1/2 but gained 3/4 later. May wheat was unchanged at the opening, 1.61 1/2, advancing 1/4 before the close.

December corn was unchanged at 75 at the opening and held that figure. May corn opened up 1/2 at 75 1/2, dropping 1/4 later. July corn was off 1/4 at the opening, 75 1/2, and remained unchanged in later trading.

December oats opened unchanged at 47 1/2, losing 1/2 subsequently. May oats opened unchanged at 49 1/2 and held that figure. July oats opened unchanged at 48 1/2, later losing 1/4.

WORKERS GLAD TO ACCEPT REDUCTION

New Bern Socialistic Venture Fails When Plant Fails to Return Profit.

By United Press Leased Wire
New Bern, N. C.—Employees of the New Bern Iron and Supply company returned to work today at a compromise wage schedule of seventy cents per hour, after being convinced that a reduction in the wage scale was necessary.

The plan by which all employees have shared in the net profits, not allowing for return on the capital invested, failed when the first two plant failed to show any profit for distribution after the reduction of office salaries, production costs and overhead. The men had been out since Monday. The new wage schedule represents a cut of almost ten per cent from the former schedule of seventy six cents per hour.

Employees of the company struck for the second time Monday at noon. Company business for the previous week had failed to show a profit for division. The men were paid by the company despite that fact, on a basis of ten per cent reduction. They returned to work this morning under the new agreement, which will continue indefinitely.

One of the most interesting experiments in industry began at the plant here early in the month when the employees struck rather than accept a twenty per cent wage reduction. In an effort to prove the plant was no longer operating on a paying basis, the owner, W. T. McIntosh, turned the plant over to the workers, they to divide all profits above actual production costs, the same office force to continue in office at a ten per cent reduction in salaries.

Vacation Ends Monday

School reopens on Monday, January 3. The high school students will again delve into the mysteries of physics, or the horrors of geometry and algebra. The schools were closed for two weeks.

NATIONAL TRACK MEET

WANTED BY COLLEGES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The National collegiate athletic association, in session here, has gone on record as favoring a national track meet to be inaugurated in 1921. Although the placing for the meet has not been chosen, in formal talk with the delegates indicate Chicago will be chosen.

Prof. F. J. A. Pyre, of Wisconsin, yesterday warned the association of over intensification of sport and said the attitude to win at any cost was harmful to sports in general and especially football.
